Consider the following modification of the R&D-production function of Romer (1990):

The growth of general knowledge takes the form:

1) \( \gamma \delta = \gamma \delta \), where \( \gamma \) is some positive parameter. Re-solve the Romer’s problem in a market setting. How does the growth rate of the economy behave with respect to particular values of \( \gamma \)?